No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue
With the stars of Washington unbroken and true
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 15 1863

The Glorious News

The joy with which our citizens hailed, yesterday, the rumor of the capture of Richmond and the earnest hope, almost universally expressed, that the glad tidings may prove to be true, were unmistakable indications of the hearty loyalty that pervades and animates our community. The old flag floated all over the city, the warmest congratulations were spoken, and men and women seemed to feel that the dawn had come, and the dark night was passing away. May God, in His mercy to our afflicted land grant that our best hopes may be speedily realized, and this welcome news be confirmed and followed by tidings of the conquest, not of Richmond only, but of every town and village now under the crushing, cruel tyranny of the rebellion!

Our readers can judge as well as we, how much confidence is to be put in the report which our dispatches contain. Though there are some things not yet very intelligible, still there is enough we think to justify the belief that the plan of Gen. Hooker had a far wider scope than simply the taking of Fredericksburg. It looked to the action in concert of all the Federal force in Virginia, and contemplated vast results, which cannot but effect the whole South. The position of the different parts of Hooker's army, seems to have been such as to make practicable all the movements which are reported, and we are therefore more strongly inclined to have faith in the rumor, even if it lacks confirmation, just at present. The fact also that the people of the Northern cities were disposed to credit it, has some significance, because it came at a time when under the depressing influence of the intelligence of Hooker's withdrawal, there was but slight expectation of good news. Our readers have also, we presume, noticed that for several days the statement has been repeated that no information could be gained at the War Department, but all intelligence depended on the items picked up by reporters for the Northern press. If a great plan, like that which embraced the capture of Richmond, had been devised, of course it was necessary that it should be entirely concealed from the public, while the simple fight at Fredericksburg was hardly of such consequence as to make so much caution necessary or notorious.

For these and other reasons, we cannot help believing that there is good foundation for the report; and even if deceived, we shall have had the satisfaction of supposing, at least for one day, that the city of sin and secession was conquered by our brave troops, and its rebellious occupants made prisoners or fugitives from justice.

How to Discover Copperheads.—Governor Andy Johnson, at the Loyal League meeting, in New York, hit the rebel sympathizers with the following story:

Great complaint has been made about the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. Is there any man who has no treason lurking in his bosom that is apprehensive of an arrest? Why are certain persons so apprehensive in this regard? Because treason is lurking in their bosoms! [Applause.] Lorenzo Dow, when he was on his way, upon one occasion, to attend an appointment, met a man who complained that his axe had been stolen. "I will settle that matter for you," says Dow.—Before reaching the meeting house, he picked up a large stone, weighing about a pound and a half. After he had concluded his sermon in his peculiar way, looking over the audience, turning the stone over in his hand, he said, "I have been informed by one of your neighbors that he had his axe stolen last night, and I intend with this stone to knock the man down who did it." Pursing the stone in his hand as if to throw it, there was one man who immediately dodged behind his seat and Dow pointed him out to the audience as the thief. And so I say, if you want to find out traitors, just look around and shake the writ of habeas corpus at them.—[laughter and applause]—and you will see them dodge, shrink and complain. The only objection I have to President Lincoln and his Cabinet is that they have not arrested half enough.

The Rebels Arming their Slaves.—The Nashville Union, of April 24th, quotes from the Atlanta (Georgia) Intelligencer and Confederacy, the following passage, urging upon the rebel commanders the necessity of arming the slaves:

We must "fight the devil with fire," by arming our negroes to fight the Yankees.—There is no doubt that in Georgia alone we could pick up ten thousand negroes that would rejoice in meeting fifteen thousand Yankees in deadly conflict. We would be willing almost to risk the fate of the South upon such an encounter in an open field.

Brief and to the Point.—The Ohio Legislature has adopted the following resolution offered by Mr. Fing, a Union democrat, as a response to some petitions for an armistice and peace:

Resolved, by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That we will have no dissolution of the Union, that we will have no armistice; that we can fight as long as rebels and traitors can, that the war shall go on until law is restored, and we will never despair of the Republic.

Low Dresses.—The sign before the door of a mantua-maker's shop in New York runs thus:—"N. B. Dresses made lower than ever." The modest male reader will be properly shocked on learning that the word "low" refers to the cut, and not the price for making the garment!

Letter from Walla Walla

Walla Walla W. T. May 10 1863

Editor Oregonian:

I congratulate you on the fact that I am reading your paper. I have been able to ascertain what drinking house in Portland keeps the best whisky and lunch. I am pleased not to be able to find in your local news the relative speed of any two steamers navigating the waters of Oregon and Washington Territory. I am tickled out not finding any urgent appeals to the Portlanders to come and assist actively at the "Still Hunt" to ascertain the whereabouts of Jay Marwin, Sidy Blogg and or some other Knight of the well and lamp lighter order. The reason why I am rejoiced in not finding those things in the Oregonian is because I don't want to know anything about them and I believe the public are of my opinion. In the retirement of the secret drinking shops, the speculating dentists and the merchant manager ministrels I attribute the very handsome circulation you pay this bantam in this section of the country equaling, I believe, the aggregate circulation of every other Oregon paper put together.

You have doubtless found on your local paper the Self Saman all that is said of the swearing Hibberd for Clerk, the call for a Democratic County ticket and other matters but some of them who bear my indictment.—First then:

The Call for a Democratic Convention.

It is intended to select a delegation to the Vancouver Democratic Convention which meets on the 25th inst. to confer with the Democracy of the River and Sound counties in relation to bringing out candidates for the nomination of the Union Convention. For this purpose they think they can unite fifteen upper country and fifteen out of ten votes east of the Cascades, if they can get a candidate nominated from this section of the Territory. If they should not do this perhaps an independent candidate will be started up here and the people of the River and Sound be allowed to divide as they may.

Sa Poo Mash—The Nez Perces.

At the present term of the United States District Court, for the Third Judicial District, Sa poon wash a Nez Perces Indian, was put on his trial for the killing of a man supposed to be named Varbel on Dorn Creek a tributary of the Lapwai 1st November. The murdered man was found lying near the creek, and blood and signs of a struggle in the road leading up the creek. He was shot in the mouth and through the back of the head. He had on his person a bowie knife and the holster of a pistol. Sa poon wash was caught by two sons of Lawyer, the head chief of the Nez Perces within a few minutes of the shooting. He had had the dead man's saddle, blankets &c. and taken $20 from his person. A tax reception of the body was made out in favor of a man named Varbel. At first Sa poon mash denied the killing of Varbel, and accused another Indian of the murder, but his hands were still bloody and he at last acknowledged the deed and when confronted with his chief Big Thunder he told the following story about it. He said that he was riding along the road and the man Varbel hailed him and asked to see a spy glass which the Indian carried when out hunting horses. Sa poon wash was at the moment on foot as was Varbel, and when he asked for the return of the glass, the white man refused to give it up. At length the Indian tried to recover it by force when Varbel drew his revolver—the first load was discharged in the struggle between them—the Indian got possession of the pistol, shot Varbel twice and dragged him into the brush. The District Attorney refused to allow the Indian's statement to be received in testimony, and he was convicted. Those who are best acquainted with Indian character have grave doubts about the guilt of Sa poon mash, and for my own part, the mere fact that the Indian was unarmed at the commencement of the fray, the killing being done when Varbel must have come out to the road to meet the Indian, or have been traveling along the road, taken with the reasonableness of the story that a rough white man would be likely to try and dispoil a poor Indian, I am the opinion that the man's story is worthy of credence. But he was allowed to make no further statement than that he killed the man, and then the balance of his story was ruled out. The fact that he robbed Varbel's body is all the proof of the intent with which he killed him, and it should have been kept in mind that an Indian always despoils his dead enemies. But this Indian was tried just as a white man would be, and was deprived of the benefit of his own explanation which is struggly tortured by the position of things when he was arrested, with Varbel's pistol in his possession and the owner evidently slain with his own weapon.

I look upon the whole matter as peculiarly unfortunate just at the time when the Nez Perces are about to hold their Grand Council that a member of their most powerful band is condemned to death, with at having had a sufficient defense even if he were not prosecuted with unnecessary severity.

John Crow on the Rampage.

In my last I wrote you about the escape of the celebrated convict bond agent, &c. John Crow from the Walla Walla jail. After leaving the jail, he took the road to Wallula, passed that place and kept on until down the Columbia river. Meeting a party of Indians he asked the privilege of riding one of their horses. After traveling a short distance the party stopped to have a smoke and Crow kept on slowly on horseback. After getting a mile away without exciting the suspicion of the Indians, he suddenly whipped up the horse and has not been heard from since. This is only a specimen of his performances which rival those of Claude Duval or Sixteen string Jack. If he is caught again I think your State Government should take measures to have him returned to the Dog in Penitentiary.

Business continues dull, here with considerable rush to Boise and Idaho and prospects for the growing crops LIBERAL.

The Feeling at the South.—The Richmond Enquirer comes to the conclusion that another year of war at least is before the South, and perhaps more. They must either fight or submit. There is much to hope from foreign intervention, the lack of cotton or the hoped for friendship of the Northwest. The Yankees in the opinion of the editor are not beginning to fight, and in a few weeks time even that eloquent friend of the South, Vallandigham, whose great speech is flying over the Confederacy in pamphlet and newspapers will stand where Van Buren stands now and will be clamoring for war to the knife. In this view of the case the editor says:

"We are going to have a great campaign—the greatest of all, and the armies will every soldier. The country must and will sustain and arm them. If high spirit and honor do not impel stragglers to return to their duty, let the commanders put the women present to such taunts as will degrade at home, as they formerly served as balls to the too patient gentlemen of France. The crisis is upon us. The sun rises high and spring breezes are making favorable and verdant battle fields, and with firm earth beneath for the hoofs of cavalry and the wheels of artillery the battle buds and will blow ere long. War is in season, peace is out of order.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to May 9th.

Richmond Taken.

Gens. Keys and Stoughton advance on Richmond from Fortress Monroe.

Hooker Recrosses the Rappahannock.

Port Gibson ours.

RAPID DECLINE OF GOLD.

Fortress Monroe May 7th.—Union prisoners who arrived from Richmond today report that they were captured within three miles of Richmond on the 1st while in pursuit of a courier with a dispatch from Jack Davis who Jeff Davis. The people of Richmond were in a terrible state of excitement.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 5th claims to have taken 5,000 prisoners on Sunday but admits a heavy loss.

Gen. Stoneman's raid the same paper says that 15,000 cavalry had destroyed the Fredericksburg railroad at Ashland took possession of a train of cars capturing several rebel government officers. He also destroyed two locomotives. A detachment of Yankees then proceeded to Hanover Court House tearing up the Central Railroad track and cutting telegraph wires. They also burned the Court House and several bridges on the Fredericksburg railroad and destroy the water tanks. They were evidently guided by some one familiar with the country. At Brooks Pike the Yankees exchanged horses for fresh ones and proceeded across the Chickahominy, destroying the turnpike and railroad bridges over the river. They captured a locomotive which was sent out this morning in a train of cars.

St. Louis May 8th.—A gentleman from Shreveport reports that the rebels have captured and 30 transports between there and Alexandria. 10,000 rebels were reported to be at Fulton. At Danville 9 miles above Shreveport he saw five Texan regiments en route for Little Rock to join Gen. Price for the invasion of Missouri. They are to be mounted and will leave ab out the 20th May and move up the Black river.

Gen. Blunt telegraphed from Leavenworth that Col. Phillips crossed the Arkansas river on the night of April 24th and attacked the rebel force that had been concentrated and fortified at Wellsfulls, capturing all their camp equipage.

The Richmond papers contain the following:

Milton May 7th.—Yesterday, Jackson penetrated the enemy's rear and drove him from his position to within half a mile of Chancellorsville. He was attacked at the same time in front, by two of Longstreet's division. Loss on both sides very heavy.

Washington, May 8th.—It has been ascertained from the front, that the army has arrived with all its accoutrements at old camp Falmouth. The demonstrations of Hooker proved no disaster but simply a failure.—Less than three fourths of the whole force could be engaged, owing to the dense forests and impassable roads. Our loss in prisoners does not exceed 1,500.

The President and Gen. Halleck visited Hooker's army, Tuesday and returned to-night. The army is preparing for another movement. We will probably not know when it is to be made until after it has commenced.

Philadelphia, May 8th.—Last evening's Washington's Star says:

It is understood that Gen. Hooker estimates his loss at 10,000 killed, wounded and missing and also that he brought away all his material from his late position, and that which he unfortunate as to lose some artillery, he took as many prisoners as he lost.

New York, May 8.—A special dispatch states Gen. Stoughton says that on Monday morning farmers rushed into the city with news of Stoneman's appearance in the suburbs, and that our cavalry were gobbling up every body as prisoners. The bells were rung, and fearful consternation prevailed.

Stoughton states that Stoneman's force went within sight of Richmond, and four of our men were captured within a mile and a quarter of that city.

Gen. Banks has issued orders commanding all negroes and enemies to leave his department on or before the 15th of May and declaring the death penalty for furnishing supplies to the enemy.

SECOND DISPATCH.

Philadelphia May 9th.—The Bulletin of this city publishes the following.—We have highly important intelligence this evening. We learn from the editor of the Enquirer that one of their correspondents who has just returned from Washington, informed him that Gen. Hooker recrossed the Rappahannock in force, yesterday, the men carrying 6 days rations. We also learn from another source that is vouched for as reliable that General Keyes has taken Richmond, having advanced upon it via Yorktown, and that the Federal flag now floats over the rebel capitol. If this intelligence is true, Hooker's falling back was a ruse, and the real attack on Richmond was to be made while Lee's army was on the Rappahannock. If Stoneman has cut off Lee as is reported, it will be the work of time for Lee to reach the rebel capitol—in the meantime Hooker is on his heels.

Later.—We have a confirmation from a perfectly reliable source that Hooker has recrossed the Rappahannock.

Gold has been falling rapidly to-day, and this fact probably resulted from the important movements reported. We have no quotations of the price of the precious metal since the reception of this important news.

The telegraph is silent concerning this startling intelligence which is already exciting the utmost enthusiasm.

Philadelphia May 9.—It is reported that private advices have been received in this city from Fortress Monroe stating that 10,000 Federal troops arrived there on the 6th as reinforcements, and immediately marched forward from attack on Richmond.

There is now no doubt but that Hooker has crossed the Rappahannock. It is also stated that Gen. Stoneman was lying at White House on the 6th, receiving reinforcements from transports via York river and immediately sending them forward to Richmond.

The people of this city are in the highest state of excitement over the glorious news.

Chicago midnight, May 9.—I send you everything received up to this time in regard to the reported capture of Richmond.

Springfield Ill. May 9.—The following was received last night. [Grand Gulf Miss. May 4.—We again had a fight on Wednesday with the enemy in full retreat, and our forces in close pursuit. The Illinois troops as usual behaved with their great straightforwardness. Heavy loss on our side is 149 killed and 500 wounded. We have taken 1,000 prisoners. The enemy's loss in killed and wounded is much greater than ours. (Signed) Richard Yates.

Washington, May 9.—The following has been received from Grand Gulf by General Halleck. We landed at Bolingsburg April 30 and marched directly to Port Gibson and met the enemy 11,000 strong four miles south of that place, at 2 o'clock on the morning of the 1st. We engaged and fought him all day entirely routing him with the loss of many killed and wounded and taking about 500 prisoners, besides the wounded. Our loss is about 100 killed and 500 wounded. The enemy retreated towards Vicksburg destroying the bridges over the Bayou Pierre. They were rebuilt and the pursuit continues to the present time. Four field pieces and some stores were captured and the enemy destroyed much more. The country is the most broken and difficult to operate in of any that I ever saw. Our victory is complete and the enemy is thoroughly demoralized.

Signed Grand Gulf March 6, to General Halleck.

San Francisco May 10.—The steamers Brother Jonathan from Victoria and Oriental from Panama arrived last night.

Marysville May 10, 4 P. M.—There is intense excitement here at San Francisco and Sacramento, over the news of the capture of Richmond.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

PROVOST MARSHALS.—A telegraphic dispatch to the Union announces the appointments of Julius M Keeler as Provost Marshal for Oregon and Byron M Smith for Idaho Territory.

Mr. Keeler is, we presume, the gentleman who formerly taught school in this city and was highly esteemed in this community. Ever since the war broke out, he has been connected with the army, and is well qualified we doubt not for the responsible duties of his position.

BREAD RIOTS IN NORTH CAROLINA.—The Raleigh (N C) Standard, of March 25th, gives an account of a bread riot that had just taken place near that city. A company of women, most of them soldiers' wives, went to the store of William Welch, at High Point, rolled out several barrels of molasses and divided it. The Standard remarks, on this occurrence: "Welch is a great war man, and favors general impressment of supplies by the army. How does he like the principle of impressment as applied in this case?"

The same paper gives particulars of other riots, and referring to them editorially, exclaims: "Bread riots have commenced, and where they will end God only knows." A letter is copied by the Standard from another North Carolina paper, giving an account of the riotous outbreak of the women at Salisbury, in that State, a place with which many of our soldiers have become acquainted. The letter is dated March 19th, and says:

"There was a mob raised here yesterday, consisting mostly of soldiers' wives, and led on by hunger, I suppose, and hatred against speculators. They armed themselves with hatchets and congregated at the depot for the purpose of breaking in, if necessary, and getting some flour stowed away by some speculator."

The agent refused them admittance, but finally agreed to let three of the women in, and said if any more got in they would have to kill one him. At this a large, stalwart woman made at him with a hatchet. He fired, and they rolled out ten barrels of flour owned by a man in Charlotte, and had it hauled up.

Frequently they appropriated several bags of salt, belonging to private parties. They also marched to the store of one Brown, a speculator in flour, and demanded so be let out. The door was closed, and they went to work in good earnest to break it down. Brown came to them, told them he would give them several barrels if they would leave and let him alone. They finally agreed to it, and sent for a dray to haul it to the market house for the purpose of making an equal division of it.

"While in order they visited Dr. J H Enniss, who had bought some flour for his own use and divided them in and gave them three barrels. Next they said they must have some salt, and straightway they proceeded to Krider & Bros., and made their demand. This, when Sprague & Bros. gave them all the meat they had, which was a little over half a barrel. The mob then repaired to the depot, where, it being too late to make out the share of the impressment, they moved it to W. H. Baker's, where they are now dividing it [illegible] among themselves.

Notice.—Attention is called to the testimonial of Dr. W. Koehler as a Dentist, in the [illegible] column.

Mrs. White, late of New York, has opened a Millinery [illegible] establishment under the Denniken House. She offers her stock of Dry Goods at extremely low [illegible] to close out his stock. Store near the Post Office, front street.

[illegible] has opened the Eureka Exchange (late [illegible]'s) and offers to his many [illegible] customers a [illegible] drink called the "Mountaineer."

That venerable patriot—he is seventy-eight years old—John J. Crittenden, says that the Union is to be restored by fighting. These few words include all that can be said on the subject, and the sooner all Americans see that fact the sooner will they see the rainbow of peace. The path to peace is through the battle field, and through that only.

One who is half-man, half-dog, will bow to the rich and bow more to the poor.

DENTAL CARDS.—Certificates received by Dr W. Koehler from his former places of residence.

This [illegible] conclusive is due Dr W KOEHLER a Practical D[illegible], for his skill, thorough professional attainments, and [illegible] knowledge of the science of Dentistry. I [illegible] commend Dr Koehler to all who may need [illegible] dental services J S. TITUS, M D

SPECIAL ATTENTION is respectfully called to our exclusive manufacture of the renowned WISTAR'S BALSAM, a preparation compounded by the celebrated Dr. La Riche of Paris, and which we think, from integrity to be a speedy and efficacious remedy for Syphilis, in all its stages. For obvious reasons we cannot obtain for publicity testimonials as to its efficacy, but among the innumerable cases in which it has been used, we have never known one instance of its failure. The celebrity this medicine has acquired is a sufficient guarantee of its intrinsic merit, and that it is really a boon to suffering humanity.

DR. D. JAYNES'

EXPECTORANT AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been used and there is no place on the civilized globe where their virtues are not known, that I would see almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity and especially to that numerous class who in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from inducing in fully one CONSUMPTION many of whom might have been saved if in the early stages of the disease, or in the first beginning complaints in which they are sufficient. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT,

while the SANATIVE PILLS by preserving regularity in the Bowels and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs will assist the perfect operation of the former.

The public is asked to read the following Certificates selected at random from the many in the possession of the proprietor.

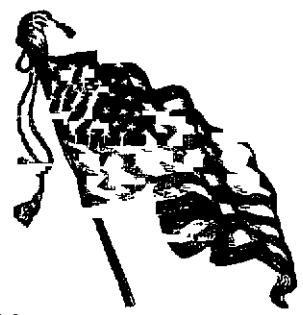
FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 15 1863



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

The Glorious News

The joy with which our citizens hailed, yesterday, the rumor of the capture of Richmond and the earnest hope, almost universally expressed, that the glad tidings may prove to be true, were unmistakable indications of the hearty loyalty that pervades and animates our community. The good old flag floated all over the city, the warmest congratulations were spoken, and men and women seemed to feel that the dawn had come, and the dark night was passing away. May God, in His mercy to our afflicted land, grant that our best hopes may be speedily realized, and this welcome news be confirmed and followed by tidings of the conquest, not of Richmond only, but of every town and village now under the crushing, cruel tyranny of the rebellion!

Our readers can judge as well as we, how much confidence is to be put in the report which our dispatches contain. Though there are some things not yet very intelligible, still there is enough we think to justify the belief that the plan of Gen. Hooker had a far wider scope than simply the taking of Fredericksburg. It looked to the action in concert of all the Federal force in Virginia, and contemplated vast results, which cannot but effect the whole South. The position of the different parts of Hooker's army, seems to have been such as to make practicable all the movements which are reported, and we are therefore more strongly inclined to have faith in the rumor, even if it lacks confirmation, just at present. The fact also that the people of the Northern cities were disposed to credit it, has some significance, because it came at a time when, under the depressing influence of the intelligence of Hooker's withdrawal, there was but slight expectation of good news. Our readers have also, we presume, noticed that for several days the statement has been repeated that no information could be gained at the War Department, but all intelligence depended on the items picked up by reporters for the Northern press. If a great plan, like that which embraced the capture of Richmond, had been devised, of course it was necessary that it should be entirely concealed from the public, while the simple fight at Fredericksburg was hardly of such consequence as to make so much caution necessary or notorious.

For these and other reasons, we cannot help believing that there is good foundation for the report; and even if deceived, we shall have had the satisfaction of supposing, at least for one day, that the city of sin and secession was conquered by our brave troops, and its rebellious occupants made prisoners or fugitives from justice.

How to Discover Copperheads.—Governor Andy Johnson, at the Loyal League meeting, in New York, hit the rebel sympathizers with the following story:

Great complaint has been made about the suspension of the writ or habeas corpus. Is there any man who has no treason lurking in his bosom that is apprehensive of an arrest? Why are certain persons so apprehensive in this regard? Because treason is lurking in their bosoms! [Applause.] Lorenzo Dow, when he was on his way, upon one occasion, to attend an appointment, met a man who complained that his axe had been stolen. "I will settle that matter for you," says Dow.—Before reaching the meeting house he picked up a large stone, weighing about a pound and a half. After he had concluded his sermon in his peculiar way, looking over the audience turning the stone over in his hand, he said, "I have been informed by one of your neighbors that he had his axe stolen last night and I intend with this stone to knock the man down who did it." Passing the stone in his hand as if to throw it, there was one man who immediately dodged behind his seat, and Dow pointed him out to the audience as the thief. And so I say, if you want to find out traitors, just look around and shake the writ of habeas corpus at them.—[laughter and applause]—and you will see them dodge, shrink and complain. The only objection I have to President Lincoln and his Cabinet is that they have not assassinated half enough.

The Rebels Arming their Slaves.—The Nashville Union, of April 24th, quotes from the Atlanta (Georgia) Intelligencer and Confederacy, the following passage, urging upon the rebel commanders the necessity of arming the slaves:

We must "fight the devil with fire," by arming our negroes to fight the Yankees.—There is no doubt that in Georgia alone we could pick up ten thousand negroes that would rejoice in meeting fifteen thousand Yankees in deadly conflict. We would be willing almost to risk the fate of the South upon such an encounter in an open field!

Brief and to the Point.—The Ohio Legislature has adopted the following resolution, offered by Mr. Flag, a Union democrat, as a response to some petitions for an armistice and peace:

Resolved, by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That we will have no dissolution of the Union, that we will have no armistice; that we can fight as long as rebels and traitors can, that the war shall go on until law is restored, and we will never despair of the Republic.

Low Dresses.—The sign before the door of a mantua-maker's shop in New York runs thus:—"N. B. Dresses made lower than ever." The modest male reader will be properly shocked on learning that the word "low" refers to the cut, and not the price for making the garment!

Letter from Walla Walla

WALLA WALLA, W. T. May 10 1863

EDITOR OREGONIAN

I congratulate you on the fact that in reading your paper I have been unable to ascertain what drinking house in Portland keeps the best whisky and lunch. I am pleased not to be able to find in your local news the relative speed of any two steamers navigating the waters of Oregon and Washington Territory. I am tickled at not finding any urgent appeals to the Portlanders to rush their subscriptions at the Sell-o-loon and buy stock for the benefit of Jax Merwin, Silly Bhegyard or some other Knight of the Wand and Whip Black order. The reason why I am so pleased in not finding those things in the Oregonian is because I don't want to know anything about them, and I believe the Editor may question. To this retiring act of the patronized drinking shops, the speed of steamboats and the merits of nigger minstrels I attribute the very hands me circulation your paper has attained in this section of the country equalling, I believe, the aggregate circulation of every other Oregon paper put together.

You have doubtless found in our local paper, the Statesman all that is said about the arresting of the Soldier Clarke, the call for a Democratic Convention, and other matters, but some of them will bear amplification.—First then:

THE CALL FOR A DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

It is intended to send a delegation to the Vancouver Democratic Convention which meets on the 28th inst. to confer with the Democracy of the River and Sound counties in relation to bringing out a candidate to beat the nominee of the Union Convention. For this purpose they think they can unite the entire upper country and pull nine out of ten votes east of the Cascades, if they can get a candidate nominated from this section of the Territory. If they should not do this, perhaps an independent candidate will be started up here, and the people of the River and Sound be allowed to divide as they may.

SA-POON MASH, THE NEZ PERCES

At the present term of the United States District Court, for the Third Judicial District, Sa-poon-wash-a Nez Perces Indian, was put on his trial for the killing of a man supposed to be named Varbel, on Tharn Creek a tributary of the Lapwai last November. The murdered man was found lying near the creek, and blood and signs of a struggle in the road leading up the creek. He was shot in the mouth and through the back of the head. He had on his person a bowie knife and the holster of a pistol. Sa-poon-mash was caught by two sons of Lawyer, the head chief of the Nez Perces, within a few minutes of the shooting. He had left the dead man's saddle, blankets &c., and taken $20 from his person. A tax receipt on the body was made out in favor of a man named Varbel. At first Sa-poon-mash denied the killing of Varbel, and accused another Indian of the murder, but his hands were still bloody and he at last acknowledged the deed and when confronted with his chief, Big Thunder, he told the following story about it. He said that he was riding along the road, and the man Varbel hailed him and asked to see a spy glass which the Indian carried when out hunting horses. Sa-poon-mash was at this moment on foot as was Varbel, and when he asked for the return of the glass, the white man refused to give it up. At length the Indian tried to recover it by force, when Varbel drew his revolver—the first load was discharged in the struggle between them—the Indian got possession of the pistol, shot Varbel twice and dragged him into the brush. The District Attorney refused to allow the Indian's statement to be received in testimony, and he was convicted. Those who are best acquainted with Indian character have grave doubts about the guilt of Sa-poon-mash, and for my own part, the mere fact that the Indian was unarmed at the commencement of the fray, the killing being done when Varbel must have come out to the road to meet the Indian, or have been traveling along the road taken with the reasonableness of the story that a rough white man would be likely to try and dispoil a poor Indian, I am the opinion that the man's story is worthy of credence. But he was allowed to make no further statement than that he killed the man, and then the balance of his story was ruled out. The fact that he robbed Varbel's body is all the proof of the intent with which he killed him, and it should have been kept in mind that an Indian always despoils his dead enemies. But this Indian was tried just as a white man would be, and was deprived of the benefit of his own explanation which is strongly fortified by the position of things when he was arrested, with Varbel's pistol in his possession and the owner evidently slain with his own weapon.

I look upon the whole matter as peculiarly unfortunate, just at the time when the Nez Perces are about to hold their Grand Council, that a member of their most powerful band is condemned to death with or having had a sufficient defense, even if he were not prosecuted with unnecessary severity.

JOHN CROW ON THE RAMPAGE

In my last I wrote you about the escape of the celebrated contract and agent, John Crow, from the Walla Walla jail. After leaving the jail he took the road to Walla Walla passed that place and kept a trail down the Columbia river. Meeting a couple of Indians he asked the privilege of trying one of their horses. After traveling a short distance the party stopped to have a smoke and Crow kept on slowly on horseback. After getting a mile away without exciting the suspicion of the Indians he suddenly whipped up the horse and has not been heard of since. There is only a specimen of his performances, which rivals those of Claude Duval or Sam Bass, string Jack. If he is caught again, I think your State Government should take measures to have him returned to the Oregon Penitentiary.

Business continues dull, here with a considerable rush to Boise and splendid prospects for the growing crops. LIBERAL.

The Feeling at the South.—The Richmond Enquirer comes to the conclusion that another year of war at least is before the South, and perhaps more. They must either fight or submit. There is no help either from foreign intervention, the lack of cotton or the hoped for friendship of the Northwest. The Yankees in the opinion of the editor are just beginning to fight, and in a few weeks time even that eloquent friend of the South Vallandigham, whose great speech is flying over the Confederacy in pamphlets and newspapers, will stand where Van Buren stands. He will be clamoring for war to the knife. In this view of the case the editor says:

"We are going to have a great campaign—the greatest of all—and the army wants every soldier. The country must and will sustain and arm them. If high spirit and honor do not impel stragglers to return to their duty, le public opinion do it. Let the women present such rebels to all laggards at home, as they formerly served distaffs to the too patient gentlemen of France. The crisis is upon us. The sun rises high and spring breezes are making favorable and verdant battle fields, and with firm earth beneath for the hoofs of cavalry and the wheels of artillery, the battle buds and will blow ere long. War is in season, peace is out of order.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to May 9th.

Richmond Taken.

Gens. Keys and Stoughton advance on Richmond from Fortress Monroe.

Hooker Recrosses the Rappahannock.

Port Gibson ours.

RAPID DECLINE OF GOLD.

FORTRESS MONROE May 7th.—Union prisoners who arrived from Richmond to-day report that they were captured within three miles of Richmond on the 3d while in pursuit of a courier with a dispatch from Jackson to Jeff. Davis. The people of Richmond were in a terrible state of excitement.

The Richmond Inquirer of the 5th claims to have taken 5,000 prisoners on Sunday last, admits a heavy loss.

Of Gen. Stoneman's raid the same paper says that 15,000 cavalry had destroyed the Fredericksburg railroad at Ashland to keep possession of a train of cars capturing several rebel government officers. Hunt destroyed two locomotives. A detachment of Yankees then proceeded to Hanover Court House tearing up the Central Railroad track and cutting telegraph wires. They also burned the Court House and several bridges on the Fredericksburg railroad and destroy[ed] the water tanks. They were evidently guided by some one familiar with the country. At Brook's Pike the Yankees exchanged horses for fresh ones and proceeded across the Chickahominy destroying the turnpike and railroad bridges over the river. They captured a lieutenant which was sent out this morning on a reconnoissance.

ST. LOUIS May 8th.—A gentleman from Shreveport reports that the rebels have some gunboat and 30 transports between there and Alexandria. 10,000 rebels were reported to be at Toulon. At Danville 9 miles above Shreveport he saw five Texan regiments en route for Little Rock to join Gen. Price for the invasion of Missouri. They are to be mounted and will leave about the 20th May at Imove up the Black river.

Gen. Blunt telegraphed from Leavenworth that Col. Phillips crossed the Arkansas river on the night of April 24th and attacked the rebel force that had been concentrated and fortified at Wellsfulls, capturing all their camp equipage.

The Richmond papers contain the following:

MILFORD May 7th.—Yesterday Jackson penetrated the enemy's rear and drove him from his position to within half a mile of Chancellorsville. He was attacked at the same time in front, by two of Longstreet's divisions. Loss on both sides very heavy.

WASHINGTON, May 8th.—It has been ascertained from the front, that the army has arrived with all its accoutrements, at old camp Falmouth. The demonstration of Hooker proved no disaster, but simply a failure—less than three fourths of the whole force could be engaged, owing to the dense forests and impassable roads. Our loss in prisoners does not exceed 1,500.

The President and Gen. Halleck visited Hooker's army, Tuesday, and returned to-night. The army is preparing for another movement. We will probably not know when it is to be made until after it has commenced.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8th.—Last evening's Washington Star says:

It is understood that Gen. Hooker estimates his loss at 10,000 killed, wounded and missing, and also that he brought away all his material from his late position, and that while so unfortunate as to lose some artillery, he took as many prisoners as he lost.

NEW YORK, May 8.—A special dispatch states Gen. Stoughton says that on Monday morning farmers rushed into the city with news of Stoneman's appearance in the suburbs, and that our cavalry were gobbling up everybody as prisoners. The bells were rung, and fearful consternation prevailed.

Stoughton states that Stoneman's force went within sight of Richmond, and four of our men were captured within a mile and a quarter of that city.

Gen. Banks has issued orders commanding all registered enemies to leave his department on or before the 15th of May, and declaring the death penalty for furnishing supplies to the enemy.

SECOND DISPATCH.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9th.—The Bulletin of this city publishes the following.—We have highly important intelligence this evening. We learn from the editor of the Enquirer that one of their correspondents who has just returned from Washington is informed that Gen. Hooker recrossed the Rappahannock on Friday evening, the men carrying off their rations. We also learn from another source that is considered as reliable that General Keyes has taken Richmond, having advanced upon it via Yorktown, and that the Federal flag now floats over the rebel capitol. If this intelligence is true, Hooker's falling back was a ruse, and the real attack on Richmond was to be made while Lee's army was on the Rappahannock. If Stoneman has cut off Lee as reported, it will be the work of time for Keyes to reach the rebel capital, in the meantime Hooker is on his heels.

LATER.—We have a confirmation from a perfectly reliable source that Hooker has recrossed the Rappahannock.

Gold has been falling rapidly to-day, and this fact probably resulted from the important movements reported. We have no quotation of the price of the precious metals here to-night.

The telegraph is silent concerning this startling intelligence which is already exciting the utmost enthusiasm.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—It is reported that private advices have been received in this city from Fortress Monroe stating that 10,000 Federal troops arrived there on the 7th as reinforcements, and immediately moved forward for an attack on Richmond.

There is no doubt but that Hooker has crossed the Rappahannock. It is also stated that Gen. Stoneman was lying at White House on the 6th, receiving reinforcements from transports via York river, and immediately sending them forward to Richmond.

The people of this city are in the highest state of excitement over the glorious news.

Midnight, May 9.—I send you everything received up to this time in regard to the reported capture of Richmond.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. May 9.—The following was received last night: Grand Gulf, Miss., May 3.—We gained a victory on the 1st. The enemy are in full retreat, and our forces in close pursuit. The Illinois troops, as usual, behaved with their great gallantry. The loss on our side is 250 killed and 500 wounded. We have taken 1,000 prisoners. The enemy's loss, in killed and wounded is much greater than ours. (Signed) RICHARD YATES.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The following has been received from Grand Gulf by General Halleck. We landed at Bridgesburg April 30th and marched directly to Port Gibson and met the enemy 11,000 strong four miles south of that place, at 2 o'clock on the morning of the 1st. We engaged and fought him all day, entirely routing him with the loss of many killed and wounded and about 500 prisoners, besides the wounded. Our loss is about 100 killed and 500 wounded. The enemy retreated towards Vicksburg, destroying the bridges over the Bayou Pierre. They were rebuilt until the pursuit continues to the present time. Four field pieces and some stores were captured, and the enemy destroyed much more. The country is the most broken and difficult to operate in of any that I ever saw. Our victory is complete, and the enemy is thoroughly demoralized.

Signed, Grand Gulf March 1st, to General Halleck.

SAN FRANCISCO May 10.—The steamers North Star from Victoria and Oriental from Panama arrived last night.

MARYSVILLE May 10, 4 P. M.—There is intense excitement here at San Francisco and Sacramento, over the news of the capture of Richmond.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

PROVOST MARSHALS.—A telegraphic dispatch to the Union announces the appointments of Julius M. Keeler as Provost Marshal for Oregon and Byron M. Smith for Idaho Territory.

Mr. Keeler is, we presume, the gentleman who formerly taught school in this city, and was highly esteemed in this community. Ever since the war broke out, he has been connected with the army, and is well qualified we doubt not for the responsible duties of his position.

RIOTS IN NORTH CAROLINA.—The Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, of March 25th, gives an account of a bread riot that had just taken place near that city. A company of women, most of them soldiers' wives, went to the store of William Welch, at High Point, rolled out several barrels of molasses and divided it. The Standard remarks, on this occurrence: "Welch is a great war man, and favors general impressment of supplies by the army. How does he like the principle of impressment as applied in this case?"

The above paper gives particulars of other riots, and referring to them editorially, exclaims: "Bread riots have commenced, and who they will end God only knows." A letter is copied by the Standard from another North Carolina paper, giving an account of a riotous outbreak of the women at [illegible], in that State, a place with which many of our soldiers have become acquainted. The letter is dated March 19th, and says: "There was a mob raised here yesterday, consisting mostly of soldiers' wives, and led on by Negroes, I suppose, and hatred against [illegible]. They armed themselves with [illegible] and congregated at the depot for the purpose of breaking in, if necessary, and getting some flour stowed away by some speculator. [illegible] at refused them admittance, but finally agreed to let three of the women in, and if any more got in they would have to go over him. At this a large, stalwart man made at him with a hatchet. He fled, and they rolled out ten barrels of flour, owned by a man in Charlotte, and had it taken up.

Subsequently they appropriated several barrels of salt, belonging to private parties. They also marched to the store of one Brown, a speculator in flour, and demanded to be let in. The door was closed, and they went to work in good earnest to break it down. Brown, one of them, told them he would give them [illegible] barrels if they would leave and let him alone. They finally agreed to it, and sent for wagons to haul it to the market house, for the purpose of making an equal division of it. While in order they visited Dr. J. H. Enniss, and bought some flour for his own use. They let them in and gave them three barrels, but they said they must have some more, and straightway they proceeded to Sprague & Bros., and made their demand upon them. Sprague & Bros. gave them all the flour they had, which was a little over half a barrel. The mob then repaired to the [illegible] house, when, it being too late to make [illegible] of the impressment, they moved it to W. R. Ester's, where they are now dividing it among themselves.

[illegible] attention is called to the testimonials of Dr. W. Koehler as a Dentist, in the [illegible] column.

Mr. [illegible], late of New York, has opened a Millinery [illegible] establishment under the Demilion House. He offers his stock of Dry Goods at extremely low prices, to close out his stock. Store near the Post Office, Front street.

[illegible] has opened the Eureka Exchange (late [illegible]) and offers to his numerous customers a [illegible] drink named the "Mountaineer."

That venerable patriot—he is seventy-eight years old—John J. Crittenden, says that the Union is to be restored by fighting. These words include all that can be said on the subject, and the sooner all Americans see that fact the sooner will they see the [illegible] of peace. The path to peace is over the battle field, and through that only.

One who is half-man, half-dog, will bow to the rich and fawn on the poor.

DENTAL CARD.—Certificates received by Dr. W. K. from his former places of residence:

SPECIAL ATTENTION is respectfully called to our extensive manufacture of the renowned DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM, a preparation compounded by the celebrated Dr. LA RICHAT, of Paris, and which we have every integrity to be a speedy and efficacious remedy for Consumption, in all its stages. For obvious reasons, we refrain from publishing testimonials as to its efficacy; but the [illegible] numerable cases in which it has been administered, we have never known one instance of its failure. The popularity this medicine has acquired is of itself a sufficient guarantee of its intrinsic merit, and that it is a [illegible] to suffering humanity."

EXPECTORANT
AND SANATIVE PILLS

HAVE BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC SO LONG, and found such general favor in every region of country where they have been sold, (and there is no place on the civilized globe where they have not been sold) that it would seem almost superfluous at this time to direct attention to them through the medium of the press. Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who, in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, suffer from

Diseases of the Lungs & Throat,

inducing and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in promoting complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates Immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT,

while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the Bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UNCHLAND, Chester Co, Pa., Sept 15, 1858.

DR. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island Jan 15, 1860.

L. W. TENEYCK, Esq New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known, but not enough known "EXPECTORANT" of Dr Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

Remaining my dear Sir, with esteem, your servant and friend, J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co., O., May 21, 1860

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LUNG FEVER, after having been given up by the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well. J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co, Pa. July 25, 1863.

DR. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My wife was for one and a half years afflicted with a severe and distressing CONSUMPTION for two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking two bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is in as good health as ever. JOHN HENRY.

Wm. Gold: this is to certify that we sold to Mr Henry the [illegible] of his son and know that the statement is true.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and juices. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent to whom the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose or two internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally according, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the part freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be relieved.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

A SOLDIERS' GRAVEYARD —A correspondent of the Evening Post, with the army before Vicksburg, sends the following description of a soldiers' graveyard

Perhaps one of the first things you would notice in the vicinity of Vicksburg would be the long lines of graves on the river slope of the levee, and bordering our path within a foot or two of it for a considerable portion of our walk; they do not lie side by side, there is scarcely room on the slope of the levee for two abreast, but are buried head to foot, a long single file of dead that crowd upon the path of the living. Every regiment carries its dead to that portion of the levee, immediately in front of it, and if you had no other guide the rude head boards would tell you what regimental camps you were passing

The best of those head boards are only pieces of box lids. Sometimes those that belong to one regiment or to one battery present a nearer appearance and similarity of execution, that betrays the workmanship of the same hand, some one who has been hastily elected by his comrades "carver of the grave boards;" some kindly soul that, with deadly-handled jacknife, carves the name of comrade after comrade on those frail materials to guide the tread is that may some time come to take him home.

In the majority of cases, however, the name is only written with a pencil on a small piece of board, and in many instances only a stick or small bough is stuck into the ground at either end of the grave to warn the throng that passes to withhold their feet. Nearly all of these graves are below the level of the river, but it is the only place where the dead can find a rest. The ground where the camps are pitched is too wet, and the top of the levee must be reserved as a thoroughfare for the living.

The sight of these graves so slightly marked, and whose borders encroach upon the only highway, shocks one at first, but in a day or two one becomes accustomed to it Soldiers lounge among the graves, and smoke their pipes sitting on the ground, regardless of the fact that only a couple of feet beneath lies one who, perhaps, a few days before lounged and smoked there, as unconcerned as they.

A NOTABLE CONFESSION —Fernando Wood has a true estimate of the party of which he is a leader and an exponent. At the Mozart peace meeting held in Cooper Institute on the evening of April 7th, Fernando strenuously opposed the nomination of any war democrat for the Presidency, using the following offensive and, upon the whole, conclusive argument

"A war democrat—a man who proclaims himself a democrat and than is elected President of the United States upon a war platform—must necessarily carry out a war programme, and if he carries out a war programme, why, what difference will there be between that man pursuing a policy of a vigorous prosecution of the war, and the man who now is pursuing a vigorous prosecution. I hold, therefore, that if the war democrats, or if our Democratic National Convention adopts a war platform, and if they place upon that platform a war democrat and elect him to office, the only difference will be one set of men to steal in aid of the other. These new war democrats will come in more hungry than those lazy, fat rascals who are now hanging round. And instead of two thousand millions of dollars to be owed at the end, in four years it will be twenty times as much, because democrats can outsteal any other class of men."

Honest citizens will do well to take note of this unblushing confession.

QUEER DIVORCE SUIT.—From the following, from the Lafayette (Ind.) Courier, it seems that the course of true love does not run as smooth as skates on ice with a married couple in Lafayette:

"Rumor has it that a divorce case, growing out of a pair of skates and the recent skating mania in this city, is likely to engage the attention of the next Common Pleas Court. The facts may be stated in a few words. The wife, having a pretty foot and a well-turned ankle, became especially enthusiastic on the subject of skating. The husband didn't see it, but the wife, forgetful of her strict letter of promise to love, honor and obey, bought a pair of skates and, joined in the carnival. A rupture grew out of it, resulting in an entire estrangement, and a bill of divorce on the ground of incompatibility of temper. The husband, in other words, concluded to let her slide.

Many a glorious speculation has failed for the same good reason that the old Texan ranger gave when he asked why he didn't buy land when it was dog cheap.

"Well, I did come mighty near taking eight thousand acres once't, " said old Joe, mournfully, "You see, two of the boys came in one day from an Indian hunt, without any shoes, and offered me their titles to the two leagues just below here for a pair of boots."

"For a pair of boots!" we exclaimed

"Yes for a pair of boots for each league "

"But why on earth did you not take it?—They'd be worth one hundred thousand dollars to-day. Why didn't you give them the boots?"

"Just because I didn't have the boots to give," said old Joe, as he took another chew of tobacco, quite as contented as if he owned two or more hundred leagues of land.

A jeweller tells us a good story about the wife of a shoddy gentleman—suddenly raised from poverty to affluence—who was spending a good deal of money for ornaments in the jewelry line. The jeweller had sold the woman a diamond ring of great value, but observing, as she tried to force it over a remarkably red and knotty finger, that the ring was a trifle too small, he said she had better take a larger one. "No matter," replied the complacent parvenue, with amusing naiveté, "this will do—I don't expect my hands will be so large after a little while."

Extempore praying is a queer thing sometimes: It allows the supplicant very wide license of speech, which occasionally produces whimsical consequences. For example, the Rev. Mr. Shine, Chaplain of the House of Representatives in the Iowa Legislature, on the opening of a session prayed thus: "Bless Thou the young and growing State of Iowa, her Senators and Representatives, the Governor and State officers! Give us a sound currency, pure water, and undefiled religion for Christ's sake! Amen!"

A FACT.—An American novel has just come to Mr. Punch, and it increases his admiration for the ingenious delicacy of Transatlantic writers. The author has occasion to mention the lower limbs of a young lady, and he describes them as "that portion of the human frame which is generally supposed to require stockings." What do you think of that, my cat?—Punch.

The Peoria, Ill., Mail, tells the following —An old merchant of the town of R , in the old Bay State, was noted for his dishonesty. After many years of fraudulent practices, he very suddenly, and to the great surprise of all who knew him, became very pious, and joined the popular church of the town One Sunday

HARD ON SATAN.—Some one calls the Prince of Darkness a Copperhead.

LEGAL

U. S. INCOME TAX.

THE LAW CONTEMPLATES THAT EVERY ONE shall pay on all nett profits (less $600) derived from any source whatever. And from all such deduct all legally assessed National, State and County Taxes hired help, Rents Drayage &c necessary to carry on business, but no former merchant mechanic or any person has a right to deduct his own labor as so much expense from his income

The Income Tax is to be paid on the income of the year commencing January 1st 1862 so that on the evening of December 31st 1862 everybody should make up a record of their business operations for that year And among sources of income such as Dividends on Railroad Bonds and Stocks Insurance Stock, Savings Bank interest &c they having already paid a tax on, must have a clear record of these sources of income that there may be no dispute with the Assessor

All corporations must deduct a three per centum before declaring their dividends

For Example:

A man in business must make up the nett profits of his business for the year and pay the tax on the amount less $600

A man may outside of his business spend all and even more than his profits on the business nevertheless he must pay tax on all nett business profits except the $ 600 And so with a salary all over $ 600 must be taxed though personal or family expenses consume it all

The Income Tax for the year 1862 is assessable on the first day of May, 1863 and is due and payable on or before the 30th June, 1863 And any sums due and unpaid for thirty days after the 30th June as aforesaid and for ten days after demand by the Collector five per centum will be added to the amount unpaid

Each individual of any firm or partnership must make up his income separately
